Rights and obligation of foreign domestic helpers and their employers

Radio API Scripts (in English)

Male Voice-over: E

Employers and foreign domestic helpers should respect each other and observe their obligations to build a positive and long-lasting relationship.

Employers should pay full wages on time, provide a return air ticket when the contract ends and should not withhold a helper's passport.

Helpers are entitled to one rest day per week, statutory holidays, annual leave and insurance protection.

For enquiries, call the Labour Department hotline on 2717 1771