About the Seminar

Highly concerned about recent traffic accidents involving works vehicles occurred in recent months, the Construction Industry Council (CIC) is fully committed to eliminating these risks wherever possible. In view of this, the CIC takes prompt action to provide initial recommendations on the safety measures as a quick reference for frontline construction personnel to prevent recurrence of such accidents.

The CIC Secretariat and the Task Force on Site Safety Incidents issued a Safety Alert in this regard. Moreover, the Committee on Construction Safety of the CIC organises a CIC seminar with speakers from Highways Department, Labour Department, safety practitioners, utility company and main contractor. These speakers, possessing extensive working experience in road works, will share experience concerning road maintenance works safety from different perspectives. Through the seminar, it is hoped that participants will have a better understanding on existing statutory regulations, potential risks and safe practices and can promptly implement the safety practices within their work areas.
