

Employers Should Pay Wages on Time

- Narrator: Warm reminder from the Labour Department
Adopt Good People Management
Employers Should Pay Wages on Time
- Boss: Why do you both have cup noodles for lunch only?
- Elsa: Boss, it is the best choice for lunch during the end of wage period.
- Boss: Here are your wages for this month. To show appreciation of your hard work, additional bonus is granted too. It is the obligation of employers to pay wages on time.
- Elsa and Owen: Thank you, Boss!
- Owen: Let's have a big meal now!
- Labourman: According to the Employment Ordinance, wages shall become due on the expiry of the last day of the wage period. Employers should pay wages to their employees as soon as practicable but in any case not later than 7 days after the end of the wage period.

For details, please refer to the related publications published by the Labour Department.

Labour Department
Enquiry Hotline: 2717 1771
Website: www.labour.gov.hk